

Changing the License Server to a Service

We recommend installing the Helix ALM License Server as a service on Windows. A service is a program that automatically starts when the system starts and automatically stops when the system is shut down.

To change the license server to a service:

1. Choose Start > Run to open the Run command window.
2. Enter the following command:
`"C:\Program Files\Perforce\License Server\Helix ALM License Server.exe"
-install`
Note: This example shows the default install path. If you installed in a different directory, enter that information.
3. Enter the following command to uninstall the service:
`"C:\Program Files\Perforce\License Server\Helix ALM License Server.exe"
-remove`
