

Changing Temporary Directory Mounting on Fedora

Fedora 18 and later uses tmpfs to mount /tmp, which sets the directory used for Helix ALM and Surround SCM temporary files in the system memory. This directory mounting may cause problems when working with file attachments or reports.

To change the /tmp mounting, run the following command as the root user.

```
systemctl mask tmp.mount
```

Article ID: 732

Last updated: 07 Jun, 2017

Revision: 4

Surround SCM -> Changing Temporary Directory Mounting on Fedora

<http://www.seapine.com/knowledgebase/index.php?View=entry&EntryID=732>